The mission of East River Family Strengthening Collaborative, Inc. (ERFSC) is to empower families, youth, seniors and communities to become more self-sufficient through integrated and collaborative community-based services utilizing evidence-based practices that are family-focused and person-centered.

We do this by collaborating with community residents and organizations (public and private) to:

- Reduce the number of children from entering the child welfare system of care;
- Increase supports to families;
- Provide services to prevent homelessness;
- Increase financial self-sufficiency;
- Decrease youth violence; and
- Ensure that persons with disabilities and older adults have the same rights and responsibilities as other people.
As you will see throughout this report, we continued to make great strides in accomplishing the East River Family Strengthening Collaborative (ERFSC) mission in fiscal year 2018. We cannot stop and rest on these successes. ERFSC is well positioned and will continue to build upon its great legacy, working alongside our board members, stellar staff and community partners in pursuing our major goals. With the uncertainty of the recent political climate and budget cuts, we are dedicated to ensuring that residents throughout Ward 7 continue to get the services and support they deserve. As always, it seems that we at ERFSC have our work cut out for us: housing, homelessness, unemployment and underemployment, youth violence and truancy, continue to run rampant in our city. That said, we are confident that we can and will rise to the challenges before us. We are also immensely grateful to people like you, whose engagement and support make this work possible at our agency. Over the past twenty-two years our theme has been a Community United; focusing on raising awareness for the enrichment of our children and families. We have served the community through various linkages, referrals, trainings and we'd like to extend our sincerest gratitude to our network of partners that grew organically from this movement.

During fiscal year 2018, our Board of Directors became more dedicated and involved in the longevity of the organization. We held long discussions about the future of the organization and finding a permanent home. We agreed that ownership is the way to go and began developing plans of how to achieve that goal. Going forward, our priority is to continue to work on our efforts in the areas of fund development and increased donor contribution to offset the many cost of sustaining the many constraints of a predominant cost reimbursable system from the grants and contracts awarded by the District of Columbia. In preparing for our continued growth as a forward thinking organization fostering member engagement, our Board will continue to vigorously tackle its mandate of a strategic plan fashioned to maintain the agency in a position of strength. If ERFSC is to fulfill its vision to be the pre-eminent human services agency in all of District of Columbia, then we need your help, your support, and your feedback. You are why we are here and together we can build the future for a thriving Ward 7 community.
ERFSC operates as one of the five Healthy Families Thriving Communities Collaboratives (HFTCC) which began in 1996 and has operated as an independent stand-alone organization since October 2000. ERFSC partners with community residents and organizations (public and private) to reduce the number of children from entering the child welfare system, increase support systems to families, provide services to prevent homelessness, increase financial self-sufficiency, decrease youth violence, and ensure that persons with disabilities and older adults have the same rights and responsibilities as other people. The vision of ERFSC is that the Ward 7 community is equipped with the tools and skills to dramatically increase individual self-sufficiency and family stabilization through nationally recognized best practices developed by ERFSC and its partners.

As a hybrid agency, ERFSC offers direct services while simultaneously serving as a community hub. Through the support of local District of Columbia and federally funded grants and initiatives ERFSC has been fortunate enough to leverage its experience and grassroots base advocacy to more purposely serve and engage the community. These programs and services allow residents of Ward 7 and families to engage with one another in a unique way, shifting the focus from programming to actual family and/or community need. ERFSC’s Programs include case management, referrals and linkages, network and coordination of community-based services. ERFSC manages over nine contracts and grants providing services and supports to one of the District’s neediest populations in Ward 7. The supports include management of four senior services grants, managing truancy and attendance at 13 elementary and middle schools, overseeing youth linked to the DYRS, assisting families who are at risk of losing their TANF assistance, and working to support families who are homeless in finding housing and supporting families at risk of losing their children to the child welfare system. In addition, ERFSC subcontracts to small community-based agencies in Ward 7, helping them to develop their own capacity to provide services to residents. In fiscal year 2018, ERFSC began the process of introducing and adopting Protective Factors in its practice to promote the well-being of all of its program participants served in the agency. These are indicators or attributes in individuals, families, communities or the larger society that mitigate or eliminate risk in families and communities, thereby increasing the health and welfare of children and families. They help parents to find resources, supports, or coping strategies that allow them to parent effectively, even during periods of stress. Continued staff development opportunities on the framework of Protective Factors in fiscal year 2019 on parental resilience, social connections, concrete supports for parents, social and emotional competence of children and knowledge of parenting and of child and youth development will become entrenched in our work and practice in order to best serve and meet the needs of our residents.

The core of ERFSC is the dedicated staff made up of 91 Full-Time and 23 Part-Time Staff.
Case Management is the coordination and delivery of formal and informal services, activities and supports designed to optimize the well-being of children, youth, families and seniors.

Utilizing the 6 stages of case management model: Engagement, Assessment, Intervention, Monitoring and Coordination, and Termination, in FY18 East River served a diverse population of residents from Wards 7 and 8 ranging in age and household composition to include children (0-16 years old), young adults (17-25 years old), single or two parent heads of household (26-59 years old), and seniors (60 years old and over). Additionally, the majority of residents from Wards 7 and 8 have on annual a zero to low income ratio which creates economic instabilities that can be correlated to higher risk factors leading to the increased need for case management services. Though our primary constituency is Ward 7, in certain programs we serve residents throughout the city.

1,430 Families, Youth and Seniors in Wards 7 & 8 received Case Management services in FY18.

Flex Funds: Emergency Financial Assistance

Flexible Funds (Flex Funds) are an essential component of effective social service supports to families and can fill gaps in service delivery that would otherwise not be available to a family. The approach to flex funds disbursal at East River is individualized, whereby the funds are used to build on family strengths and as a way to enhance the family’s engagement with the network of services and supports. Flex funds can further the coordination and integration of community supports, and allow for creativity in meeting the needs of the children, youth, families and seniors. Typically, funds are not used for ongoing expenses, but are more often one-time or occasional costs that connect to the needs identified by the family. Flex funds are often used as a last resort when other sources cannot meet the identified need. Flex funds are often used to allow families and children to remain together in their homes.

In FY18, over $220,000 was distributed to program participants in need of Financial Assistance.
